

6 BENEFITS FOR USING A SPECIALIZED RECRUITING FIRM

#1 TIME

Time is money when it comes to business. Don't use your time going through hundreds of applications and interviews for each job opening, use your time to continue your efforts on making your business profitable.

#2 ACCESS TO CANDIDATES

Getting access to highly qualified candidates has never been simpler. Recruiters have already found the top talent and continue gain access to these individuals daily. Many organization's ideal candidates are not publicly on the job market. These individuals are typically working with a recruiter to discreetly find new and challenging employment.

#3 COST

There are many costs that come into play when looking to hire a new employee, not to mention multiple employees. Letting a recruiting firm start your hiring process is the easiest way to save money when searching for an individual to join your team. Besides the cost of time you would be spending on evaluating potential candidates, the costs of advertising your open job could increase your costs significantly. Most Recruiting Firms already have access to the top Job Boards and can have your position advertised the same day it comes available.

#4 SCREENING PROCESS

The screening process consists of many levels. Instead of using your time to navigate through the process have a Recruiting Firm take care of the following for you: applicant review, pre-screening specific to your open order, face-to-face interviews with potential candidates, assessments, reference checks, background screening, and more.

#5 PEACE OF MIND

Gain the peace of mind knowing you are receiving top level candidates to start your initial interviewing process. Your team will be able to select from individuals with proven track records to join your organization.

#6 RELATIONSHIP

Once you have commenced your relationship with a Recruiting Firm, they will have a better understanding of the competencies and characteristics an individual would need to fit successfully within your organization and be able to assist your team faster in the future.
